

COMMUNITY HUB GETS ARKONI TREATMENT

Arkoni Metalwork has played a key role in the construction of Streatham Hub, a mixed use development that includes retail, leisure, residential and transport elements created on behalf of Spenhill Regeneration working with the London Borough of Lambeth.

Arkoni supplied and fitted a very large glazed canopy with ceramic diffuser as well as fire-rated glazing and non fire-rated steel curtain walling and glazing.

Arkoni MD Mark Prentice stated: "This is a fantastic new development on the Streatham High Road and we're delighted to have contributed to the overall look and feel of a building that will be a real centre for the community."

As well as a large new Tesco store, 250 residential flats and a leisure centre, the new build project features a new Transport for London bus interchange and underground car park with Vinci Construction operating as contractors in partnership with architects Michael Aukett.
